PREFACE

The 1958 PAR-KEY is a new type of yearbook for Parkland. It has drawn its inspiration from the modern concepts embodied in the structure of our school. It has sought, as does our school, to incorporate the best elements of tradition with modern design. For that reason, the outline of the High School has been interwoven into the book, as a symbol for the modern world in which we live.

You will discover as you page throughout the book that much use has been made of photographs. Because a yearbook is essentially a record of school life, it was our belief that pictures could more vividly portray this life, and will, in future days, help to revive happy memories more readily.

Special emphasis has been given to Seniors throughout the book. This is as it should be, for this annual is the only tangible record of school life they will possess in the succeeding years. Yet it has been our intention to include all facets of High School life regardless of class.

The entire staff of the 1958 PAR-KEY now present for you the result of many long hours of work. We hope you will find it worth their efforts.

DEDICATION

Miss Anne Pharoah

We are honored to have you as an advisor and a friend

The class of 1958 is privileged to dedicate this book to Miss Anne Pharoah, whose faithful service as a devoted Parkland teacher has meant so much to so many of us through our high school years. Her high standards of scholarship, sincerity, and earnestness have inspired in us a deep desire for knowledge and truth. We realize that her fairness toward us and her interest in us has been a guide which will help us to obtain our highest goals. Miss Pharoah will always be remembered and admired for her many contributions to our years at P. H. S.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Board of Education

Board officers are the policy makers.

Holmes Gangewere, president; and Lewis Steckel, vice president.

Responsible for the overall direction of the Parkland school district and the decision of major policies, the Parkland School Board consists of seven members elected from each of the three districts which comprise the district: Upper Macungie, South Whitehall and North Whitehall. Their progressive policies, and realistic grasp of the school problems have helped to make Parkland the fine school it is.

School Board

At Tuesday meetings, school business is transacted.

School Board members are Kenneth Mensinger, Charles Henninger, Fred Steinacker, Kenneth Ochs, and Herman Snyder.

Superintendent's Office

It is the Superintendent of the schools who is charged by the school board to effect the smooth functioning of the School District, and to carry out the policies enunciated by the School Board. Acting as liaison between the Board and the school, the Superintendent's office copes daily with the manifold problems of both the high school and elementary schools.

Mrs. Helen Hamm, Secretary to Superintendent Smith . . . hates coffee — drinks milk . . . . "Sunshine herself" efficiency . . . always finds time to help puzzled seventh graders.

Mr. H. Edmund Smith, Associate Superintendent of Parkland School District . . . loves winter sports . . . admired by students, teachers, and administration . . . "Stop and say hello, whenever you see me."

Mr. Roger Butz, Secretary to the school board and Mrs. Frances Smith . . . two of the busiest people in the high school . . . handle most of the financial and organizational details of our school.

Our Principal

Mr. Frederick Meckley, Principal of Parkland . . . counsellor, mentor, and friend . . . especially helpful to the seniors . . . schedules and more schedules . . . keeps the "bugs" out of school operations.

Principal's Office

Coordinating the policies of the school and insuring the efficient and smooth operation of the high school is the responsibility of the Principal's office. Without this work, very little could be accomplished. In the handling of day to day problems, and the implementing of school wide programs, the administration's vigorous and far-sighted energies are evidenced in the general tenor of our school life.

Mr. Floyd German, Assistant Principal . . . two P.D. classes a day . . . skiing in Poconos . . . up-to-date in current affairs . . . walking encyclopedia . . . a hi-fi addict.

Mrs. Olga McKeon, "I'm new around here" . . . Secretary to Mrs. Billig, Guidance director . . . two daughters at Parkland . . . balances the books including the impossible finances of the PAR-KEY.

Miss Joanne Hartranft, Secretary to Mr. Meckley . . . "Don't get smart" . . . Parkland graduate, class of 1951 . . . loves coffee — carries quart thermos every day . . . mainstay in the general office.

Mrs. Gertrude Kelchner, knits beautiful sweaters . . . "good Morning, Parkland School District" . . . types the absentee list and the "popular" late-excuse sheet.

In Memoriam

Nancy Creitz

"Gone Before to that Unknown and Silent Shore"

In January 1955, Parkland students were deeply saddened by the tragic and untimely death of Nancy Creitz in the school natatorium.

Among her many friends in school Nancy stood as a sincere companion with a genuine interest in others. Her quiet and unassuming manner made her admired and beloved by her classmates. Nancy's departure was a profound loss to the Class of 1958.

ACTIVITIES

Student Council

The leading student organization at Parkland is its Student Council. It is charged wtih the responsibility of assisting the administration in carrying out an efficient and useful program for all students. In its regular Wednesday afternoon meeting, it discussed many measures which students felt would improve the school, and set up many activities for which there was a felt need. Perhaps the most ambitious plan was the organization of the school store, where all sorts of student supplies can be purchased.

Delegates from seventh grade who use recreational equipment are: Richard Frey, Douglas Huber, Theodore

These eighth grade delegates look over the articles in Student Council's Lost and Found department. They are: Gail MacArthur, Sallie Sharfenberg, Gail Glasser, Dorothy Swartz.

In addition the Student Council conducted two dances, the "Bermuda Hop," and the "Sweetheart Ball," it organized a cheering section at school games, conducted a clean-up campaign, and two variety shows.

Service to the community was developed through the distribution of Christmas baskets to the needy.

With the Student Council election having been conducted early in May, the 1958-59 council officers are already planning their year's program.

The Par-

Determined to make their annual outstanding in its many facets, the members of the Par-Key staff worked year 'round on a project which will be remembered by seniors and underclassmen in years to come.

Under Mr. Laurence Moyer's direction many different yearbook ideas were evolved and put into effective use. Editor-in-chief, Joanne Frank spent the entire year planning the 1958 Par-Key. Janet Herman is responsible for the fascinating new layouts in the Senior section. Nancy Cox and Jan Trimble have provided for the School Life section which has never appeared as such prior to this edition. Craig Reynolds handled the Sports outlook with true enthusiasm. Sue Christman carried through an enlargement program in the Activities section. Jean Ernst and Mary Ellen Bloch kept the financial affairs in working order as well as featuring a revolutionary advertising section. And Pat Slough with Miss Doris Schaeffer as adviser planned this year's clever theme.

It was the hope of the entire staff to present an honest picture of school at Parkland, keeping the record as modern as possible but yet possessing traditional charm.

The Trumpet

By the time the first busload of students arrived at Parkland that September day, the first 1957-58 "Trumpet" issue was ready to be circulated. The staff was highly complimented for its energetic summer work which produced an early newspaper, such a help to the incoming seventh graders.

Two staff members, editor-in-chief Mary Ellen Bloch and news editor Janet Herman, spent a week at Penn State last June at a statewide newspaper convention.

After completing successful subscription and advertising campaigns and embarking on a new venture, the magazine drive, the "Trumpet" busily pursued a journalistic course, improving with each new issue.

Bruce Emig, co-editors Dick Lewis and Marion Seyer, Dave Weissler, Liz Thomas, and Kay Bloch discuss the latest sports highlights.

Janet Herman and Pat Slough, co-editors indicate the mistakes in the latest issue to Jane Eklund, Jo Frank, Gwen Johnson, Diane Shover, and Lois Roth.

Barbara Drabic, Shirley Grammes, Sandy Harries, typing editor Sue Beisel, Adele Paranchok, Neola Steiner, Pat Egan, Sally Gaal, Nancy Keener, and Mary Ann Kunkle comprise the Trumpet's corps of typists.

National Honor Society

Honor Society, a comparatively new edition to our list of activities, is in its fourth year at Parkland.

Candidates for membership are selected on the basis of scholastic record and service leadership. Highlight of the year's activities is the induction ceremony. At a given signal from the president, the members leave the stage and file out into the audience to top the unsuspecting candidates. This element of surprise makes the program an exciting event.

The club keeps newspaper clippings of its graduate members and sends letters of congratulations to students receiving high honors on the honor roll. This organization sponsors a token scholarship to be awarded to a graduating senior. To finance this award they sponsored a dance, "Rock-a-Billy" and a car-wash.

Members and other students maintaining a high scholastic record are invited to the June picnic climaxing the Society's season of activities.

National Honor Society officers are: President Allen Handwerk, Vice President Mary Ellen Bloch, Secretary Pat Slough, Treasurer Daryl Rabert. Other members are: Lee Everett, James Whittaker, Barbara Drabic, Sandra Ebert, Jean Ernst, Joanne Frank, Shirley Grammes, Janet Herman, Carolee Hujsa, Charlene Kehs, Gail Mikovitch, Magdalene Nemeth, Nancy Roth, Marian Seyer, Diane Shover, Eloise Trimble, and Arlene Tubio.

Seen finishing preparatory work for Career Day are Dick Hahn, Bill Serfass, Bill Heintzelman, Ed Murphy, Bob Platt, Ed Kroninger, and Walt Donaghy.

Key Club

The Key Club is dedicated to developing characteristics of service and leadership, and does so by school and local community projects. Two of the most successful undertakings this year were the Oratorical Contest and the continuance of a bi-annual Career Day. Also sponsored by this active boys' club was a dance, "Touchdown Twirl," the March of Dimes campaign, and numerous other service tasks.

Perhaps the biggest event on their calendar this year was the Pennsylvania state convention held in Allentown April 11, 12, and 13. It was at this convention last year that a Parkland Key Clubber, Jim Whittaker, was elected governor of the Pennsylvania Key Clubs.

The March of Dimes was given a helping hand by Wayne Snyder, Ronald Muse, Dennis Ringer, Nick Kavounas, and Dick Handwerk.

Nelson Roth, David Wiessler, David Haldeman, Dennis Balla, Bill Peoples, and Lee Everett prepare to greet the next Career Day speaker.

Debate Club

Resolved "That Foreign Aid should be substantially increased" — this topic was chosen for the 1957-58 season of interscholastic discussions participated in by the Parkland Debate Chapter.

In scheduled debate meetings, Friday afternoons, advisor Mr. Johnson and his debaters examined the affirmative and negative sides of this statement and wrote their speeches and rebuttals.

The club attended two symposiums in preparation for the year's rounds of debates. December 11 Muhlenberg College hosted the local chapters and Cedar Crest College conducted another on March 19. This discussion of foreign aid on the collegiate level helped the clubs in their season's schedule.

Competition among the various schools began at Whitehall High School on March 6; Catasauqua was the host to the league March 11; and Parkland welcomed the other schools for a final, scramble debate April 9. Approximately one-third of the debates entered were won by the club, but the affirmative teams seemed to have the edge in the year's record.

At their annual Lehigh Valley Debate Club formal three seniors, Magdalene Nemeth, Charlene Kehs, and Marion Seyer were awarded Debate Society pins.

Co-chairmen Marion Seyer and Gail Mikovitch ponder how best to accommodate the league April 9 with Mr. Johnson.

Library research is an important part of Debate Club. Kathleen Muth, Charlene Kehs, and Magdalene Nemeth spend many study halls in this pursuit.

Mary Ann Henry, Pat Egan, and Adele Paranchok prepare strategy for the forthcoming scramble debate.

Miss Bellamy and Delilah are harassed by the persistent telephone.

Senior Play

"Father of The Bride"

This year Mrs. Vivian Wiessler directed senior thespians in producing the comedy play "The Father of the Bride," a play which was not only humorous to high school students but also had special meaning for adults. The story relates the problems a young couple encountered on the way to the altar and how they were solved by the guiding hand of the bride's father. The entire cast and those behind the scenes all contributed to make this, the last of the dramatic productions of the Senior class, a success that will be remembered by all.

Junior Play: "Don't Take My Penny"

March 13 and 14 proved to be one of the most exciting two nights in the lives of the Juniors. For it was on these two snowy evenings that they presented their play, a comedy entitled, "Don't Take My Penny," written very cleverly by Ann Martens. Director Miss Janet Miller, who had dramatic training in college, was largely responsible for the well presented entertainment.

The plot revolves around a movie-struck teenager, Penny Pringle, who creates a panic in the Pringle household. The discipline problem of the children is left to Gram, who is the most stable character.

Both Penny and Sally, the Pringles' most attractive maid, aspire to get the lead in "Stars in Her Hair." However, it is a surprise to all that Penny's sophisticated older sister captures the part and gets the leading role in the play.

Breakfast in the Pringle household is not a happy family event.

Greg tries to arouse Penny's jealousy by posing as Kerry's new girlfriend.

Senior Chorus

Trying out a new number are Gail Mikovitch (Secretary), Pat Slough (Treasurer), Jean Stauffer (Librarian), Miss Rose (Director), Doris Bittner (Librarian), and Jim Whittaker (President).

"Music hath charms that soothe—" perhaps explains the popularity of the Senior Chorus. The 67 members of the chorus under the direction of Miss June Rose, and assistance of president, James Whittaker, was always well received by the student body, the rich harmony of the many voices providing a musical treat every time they performed.

Highlights of the season included selections at assemblies, a special program at the Thanksgiving football game, at Christmas the chorus blended their talents with the band to augment the Pennsylvania German Motif of the pageant, "Christmas in Old Lehigh."

Rehearsals began with enthusiasm for the annual spring concert. The theme was "Music Everywhere," and included several specialty numbers

Our chorus was privileged to send five members to the Eastern District Chorus held at Palmerton.

The chorus and band climaxed their active season with a joint banquet. At this event letters were distributed and Miss Rose awarded a gift to the outstanding member in chorus.

SENIOR BAND

This difficult passage of music doesn't seem to trouble these District Band members. Seen are Sandra Ebert, Sandra Mengel, Bob Hunsicker, Barry Dorney, Bill Starr and Bob Hanle.

One of the largest organizations at P.H.S. is Mr. Reimschissel's senior band. The band participates in a multitude of school functions. Besides the well-planned concerts presented in the Spring and the large part of the band in the Christmas Pageant, our football and basketball games were the scenes of very colorful halftime entertainment. The precision of their marching is a symbol of a fine Parkland band.

JUNIOR HIGH BAND

The Junior Band and Junior Chorus under the direction of Mr. Reimschissel and Miss Steiner respectively, will surely be superior musicians and songsters by the time they enter the Senior high for they are now excellent. The Junior Band provided some spirited joy during those exciting basketball games along with the enjoyment of being a part of an established organization.

The Junior Chorus had part of the choral presentation of the Christmas Pageant production, adding the extra something which made it real to the audience. With the excellent preparation these junior high musicians are receiving, Parkland will always provide good music makers.

Majorettes

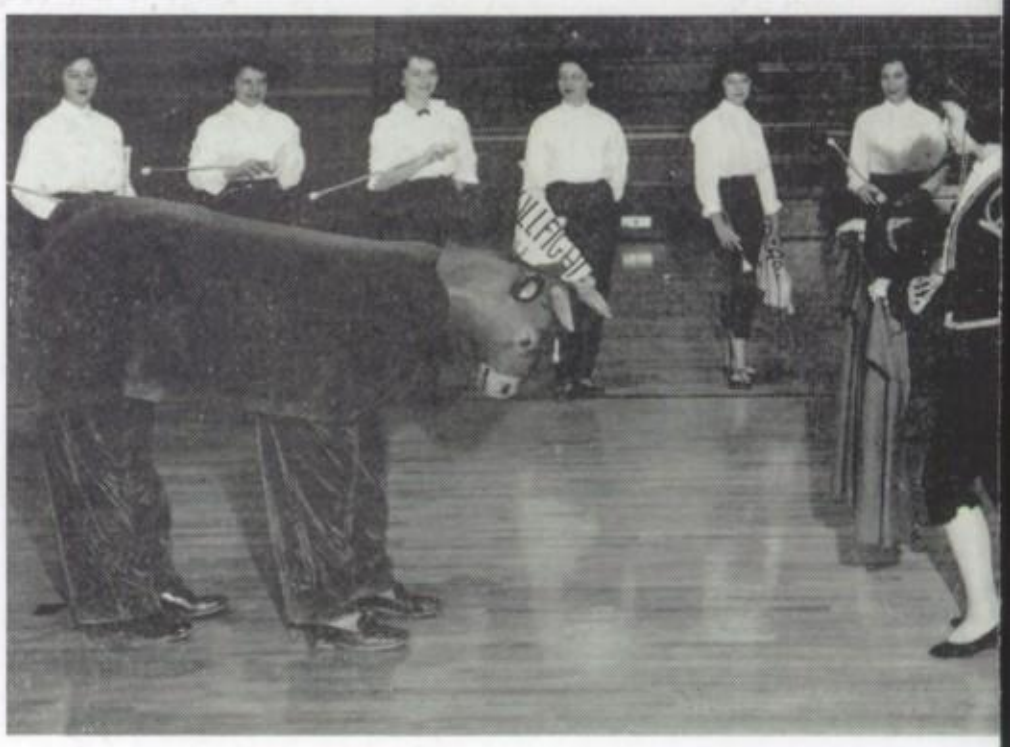
Behind the white uniforms and clicking heels marching down "Main Street" are those girls who have proven their ability as majorettes in innumerable afterschool practices. The football season arrived and the majorettes displayed a whole series of routines woven around the band. Giving vent to their showmanship they performed in a circus routine and "History of Music."

With the onset of winter, basketball games were enlivened by their attractive numbers at halftime. Foremost among these was the sailor routine.

Miss Henning became majorette adviser this year and with her guidance the squad saw much progress. Without the appearance of majorettes at sporting events the games would certainly be less lively and interesting.



This Bull Fight routine was one of several novelty spots the majorettes devised this year.

The majorettes appear very natural and attractive in this pre-game pose. Sitting are head majorette Barbara Drabic, Sue Christman, Fay Kern, Sue Keldsen, Elaine Snyder and Joanne Konnepaeus. Standing are Sandra Harries, Joanne Kristofits, drum majorette Joanne Frank, Jo Ann Tzope and Doris Bittner.

Club Program

This year our club program was expanded to encompass and broaden the curriculum of each student largely through the efforts of Mr. Floyd German. The student body found in the club program opportunity to develop new skills, learn new hobbies, enjoy new forms of recreation, and participate in personality and character developing organizations.

ATHLETICS

Varsity Football

With thirty willing boys to start the fourth football season at Parkland, Coach Snyder and Assistant Coach Eckensberger worked long and hard to instill the team with a "never say die" spirit.

The squad made a strong start by tying Nesquehoning. Unfortunately starting fullback John Bowman was injured during this contest and didn't see action for the rest of the season.

The backfield was Bill Peoples' and Bob Yadush's domain. Bob, quarterback and mastermind of the Trojan attack, played his best offense against Nesquehoning when he scored three touchdowns and set up the other Trojan tally. Bill specialized in long runs, delighting the Slatington game fans with two touchdowns on eighty-five and ninety yard kickoff returns.

Up front what was known in the League as the "Trojan Stone Wall" held reign. Heading this massive deterrent force were "Wild Bill" Trumbauer, Gene Hardenberg, and Gary "Mountain" Miller. Other stones in this wall, Dick Altemos, Bob Peters, Dave Stephens, Walt Donaghy, and Ed Rabenold held the line.

At the ends Dale Fenstermaker and Earl Sweeney were spectacular at snagging passes and with their smashing blocks and tackles.

Thanks to our fine two coaches, Mr. Snyder and Mr. Eckensberger, and all the boys for showing us that winning a game is only secondary; it's how it's played that counts.

Varsity Basketball

Contrary to the experts' predictions, the Parkland Trojans fought their way to a second half championship, leaving behind a poor first half record. After defeating Coplay in the second half playoff, the Trojans faced first half champion Wilson Boro for the league championship. Although the team was not able to shake the Wilson Boro five (they had lost to this team twice before in league competition), Parkland finished the season as runner-up for the league title.

The year's record was 14-10. These figures are deceiving however, since a majority of the games lost were very close and might have had a different outcome if the clock had run a few minutes longer.

Clint Trumbauer and Paul Kern go up for the rebound but Dale Fenstermacher rushes in and gets it.

Enough about the record, what about the boys who comprised this "Cinderella" team? There were three seniors on the starting team at the end of the season although all six seniors were starters during the competition.

The star of this contingent was Bob Murphy. Bob was on the all-league first team and was high scorer for the Trojans with an 18-point average per game. Besides these laurels Bob set three new records here at Parkland. He scored 35 points in a game, made 24 straight foul shots in league competition, and had a 79% shooting average for the year.

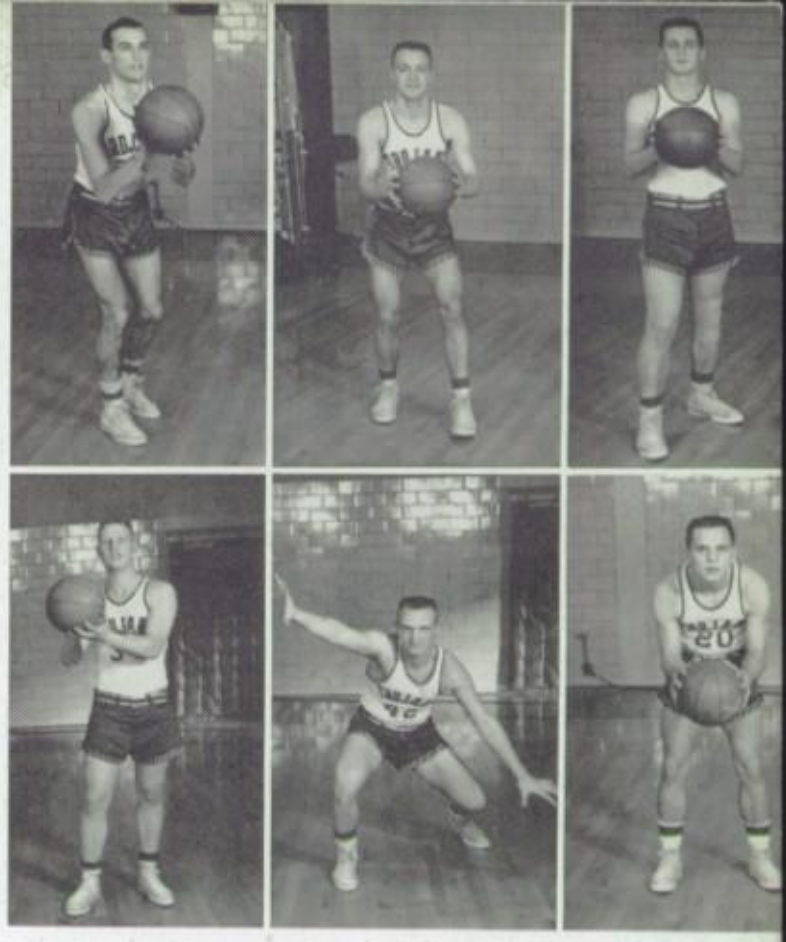
In the backcourt were Don DeRoner and John Bowman. "D" was the Trojan ball-handling ace while John thrilled the crowd with his consistent scoring. Both these sparkplugs were solid players giving the team that extra punch when it needed it. These boys received honorable mentions in the all-league balloting.

Among the rest of the seniors were two small fellows and a rough-and-tumble redhead. The little men referred to as Daryl Rabert and Bob Yadush, were "small but mighty." Daryl many times recovered the ball with his effective rebounds, and Bob became famous on the court for his set shots. The redhead, Clint Trumbauer, besides being an active rebounder was the team jokester, always keeping team spirit high.

Filling out the starting five were John Drabic and Dale Fenstermaker, both juniors. These boys also received honorable mentions in the all-league balloting.

With three junior lettermen returning next year, Coach Wilson has a potential team which should have a fine season to follow up this year's surprise team and perhaps carry Parkland further along the championship road.

John Drabic and Bob Murphy grab a rebound from the Coplay Wildcats.



Seniors: Bob Murphy, Don DeRoner, John Bowman, Clint Trumbauer, Daryl Rabert, and Bob Yadush.

Junior Varsity Football

A winning football team is the product of skill and experience. No Varsity team can achieve success without a strong reserve to draw from each year. To supply this reserve is the chief purpose of the Junior Varsity team. Starting out the season with 28 active and interested members from the 9th and 10th grades, Coach Stevenson worked long and hard with his charges to produce a smooth running team. Most of the boys had little or no experience, but through daily afterschool sessions learned the fundamentals of the single-wing and "T" formations. A good heavy line and fast backfield soon characterized the team, which lacked only seasoned skill to produce a consistently winning team. Facing superior opponents, the boys nevertheless displayed stamina and drive that next year will surely produce a winning record.

With a speed and coordination that won them 13 out of 16 league contests, the Parkland J. V. Basketball team achieved one of their most successful seasons in recent years. Mr. John Ettinger led the boys through many hours of hard practice that produced one of the smoothest teams in the league. At the close of the season, Mr. Ettinger seemed well pleased as he remarked, "We have a lot of potentially great stars for the varsity team next year."

The season was climaxed in a brilliant victory over Bangor 48 to 37, to give them an overall record of 15 wins against 7 losses.

With high spirits and great potential, the girls started their third year of Basketball under the direction of a new coach, Miss Clodagh Ryan. 24 girls from Senior High spent many hours after school perfecting coordinated plays. Despite the fact that more seasoned opponents bested them on a number of occasions, the girls maintained the fighting spirit to the end.

Miss Ryan is looking forward to next year's team which will undoubtedly perform with greater skill by virtue of this year's valuable experience.

Cheerleaders

Very much in evidence at all sporting events were the lively and energetic cheerleaders. Their enthusiasm both at games and pep rallies brought to life much latent school spirit.

Preparing and organizing new cheers necessitated many hours of practice after school, but the girls efforts were well rewarded with one of the most ambitious seasons yet. In addition to planning and organizing all pep rallies, the cheerleaders acted as hostesses for party-dances honoring the football and basketball players. Mr. Lutz supervised both the Varsity and J.V. Cheerleaders with their vigorous schedule.

Varsity: Cathy Plarr, Carol Hersh, Mary Alice Quigney, head cheerleader Mary Ellen Bloch, Patty Boyer, and Judi Maurer.

Baseball

With the coming of spring comes baseball and Parkland High School was no exception this year. The 1958 edition of the Parkland baseball team was one of the most spirited teams ever produced by coach Bob Wilson. These boys always had plenty of fight left in them even when the odds were piled high against them.

Forming the nucleus of this year's team are the three returning Senior lettermen. Bob Murphy was surely an asset in center field with his strong arm and fine fielding. Guarding the hot corner, one of the most difficult positions to play was John Bowman. Playing what has often been referred to as the most thankless position in baseball is catcher Daryl Rabert.

Other Seniors on the team are Lee Everett (starting shortstop), Paul Frable (outfielder), John Bechtel (pitcher), and Harold Buss (catcher).

This year's Senior managers were Bob Hunsicker and Craig Reynolds.

This years team was notable in its pitching strength and its speedy outfield. Seven juniors, including John Schwartz, Lefty Snyder, James Kondravy and John Drabic pitched in to make this a successful season.

Despite the loss of key lettermen last year, the 1958 track team had enough spunk and drive to achieve a highly satisfactory season. Featuring a fast team, rather than a heavy one, the boys particularly excelled in the track events.

The three returning Senior lettermen were miler Bob Royer, pole vaulter Bob Yadush and sprinter Don DeRoner. Ron Wieand and Ernie Fenstermaker specialized in field events.

Nine Juniors including Wayne Snyder, Earl Sweeney, Eddie Rabenold, Bob Marzano, Bob German and Bob Peters helped to make the season a successful one.

The highlight of the year was the District XI meet at Pottsville on May 17.

The team was coached by Mr. Snyder and Mr. White.

From March until May groups of mermaids and masculine water comedians practiced their routines for Parkland's second water show—"Around the World in 80 Days." Spectators viewed this novel presentation on April 30 and May 1. They caught a glimpse of France, Spain, Ireland, Mexico and Hawaii through the precise movements of the junior and senior high mermaids and the antics of the water clowns.

Miss Clodagh Ryan captained the voyage of eight water ballets including more than 75 girls, a swimming solo, fancy diving, and a mock water ballet. Costumes, music, lighting and scenery combined to produce a complimentary setting for this two-hour trip.

Athletic

A well disciplined mind is not of much value if it is housed in a weak body. Our school is well aware of this, and has provided a physical education program to ensure that all students receive a well-rounded education. The people on this page are obviously enjoying themselves, and at the same time are becoming fit and healthy citizens.

Program

Parkland is fortunate in having one of the best equipped physical education departments in the East. Under the direction of Mr. Wilson and Miss Lesher, students are provided with a varied and useful athletic program. Swimming classes under the direction of Mr. Ettinger and Miss Ryan offer physical skills that will be useful throughout life.

The Athletic Managers

Unsung heroes of the athletic world are the ever-present always busy managers. Without their vital supporting role, the sports program of the high school would be impossible.

Without doubt the Faculty Manager Mr. Aral Henninger (right) plays a key role in planning, organizing and executing the Athletic program at Parkland. It is Mr. Henninger who plans the schedules, acquires the referees, supervises the use and purchase of all athletic equipment, and in close cooperation with the coaches succeeds in making athletics an integral part of school life.

Serving in a lesser capacity, but also vital to the teams are the managers shown below.

SCHOOL LIFE

Some Highlights of the Year . . .

The Annual Student Council Talent Show in November brought out many hidden talents, including the winning Hawaiian dance routine by Pat Egan and Sandra Harries.

November was also remembered for the onslaught of the Flu epidemic which forced the school to close for a week of unplanned-for vacation. Before closing, the school nurse, Mrs. Herman had her hands full.

The highlight of the Christmas season was the Christmas Pageant, featuring more than 100 ninth graders plus the Band and Chorus. The Pennsylvania-German motif inculcated an indigenous symbolism which made the Pageant a memorable occasion.

High drama was presented in April by members of the English class in the production of "The Monkey's Paw", featuring Larry Ankrom, Ken Miller, Janet Herman, Ronald Kovachs, and Jim Wagner.

The Annual Call-Chronicle Spelling Contest in February found Senior home room winners Sue Beisel, Nancy Roth, Allen Handwerk, and Gail Miller competing for the honors.

A highlight of April was the Nature Exhibit. Gene Hardenberg, Loretta Stephens, Elaine Snyder and Susan Wieder seem particularly fascinated with the live trout on display.

Career Day

From the halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli.

Mrs. Billig and Bob Murphy converse with Mr. Everett, conference speaker in architecture, between sessions.

In December, Key Club conducted a successful Career Day after extensive preparation. It being two years since the last Career Day at Parkland, the student body found the day very interesting and helpful.

The variation of vocational and college conference extended by local authorities in the many fields gave each student an opportunity to attend sessions of his interests.

Parkland Beauties

Dances are a key part in the social life of any high school student. And Parkland is not remiss in its social obligations as witnessed by the many dances held at school. Two of the most popular dances held this year were the Snow Ball, at Christmas time, and the Sweetheart Ball on Valentine's Day. The highlight of each of these dances was the selection of a Queen.

A perfect way to start the holiday season was the Seniors' Snow Ball. The twinkling Christmas tree made a real holiday setting and Buster Peters kept everyone swinging with a bit of yuletide sprinkled in his selections. There was real excitement when it was announced that a surprise queen would be chosen from the Senior class. The queen, Mary Ellen Bloch, was crowned with white carnations while standing beside the sparkling tree.

Junior

"We could have danced all night," but darn it, twelve o'clock arrived much too early. This was the big night — our Junior Prom. Other high school dances fade into a nebulous series of memories; but our Junior Prom somehow remains fixed forever with every glittering wonderful detail.

We had been preparing for this night-of-all-nights for months. All of our excitement was justified — it was our Junior Prom.

The pretty junior girls attired in every imaginable type of spring gown, and their escorts, in striking tuxedos lent delightful color to the Frolics Ballroom. The "moonlight and roses theme" complimented the many couples.

A year has passed and here they are all together, no doubt, reliving their Junior Prom. Even in their informal apparel, you'd know they were royalty last May.

Prom

A highlight of the Prom was the crowning of the lovely Junior Prom queen. The colorful crown of flower buds was placed on the head of Miss Joanne Frank by the queen of 1956, Miss Jane Martin. Joanne, resplendent in her lovely pink gown, showed tears of joy! The happiness of the queen's court was evident in the radiant faces of Mary Ellen Bloch, Joanne Plarr, Diane Shellhammer, Mary Alice Quigney, Susan Christman, and Nancy Cox.

At twelve o'clock it was all over but it will last forever in our memories. We will remember our Junior Prom with nostalgia when in many years, we come across that faded corsage that was so alive that night of May 24, 1957.

To recall fond memories — this picture — exactly as it was. Prom queen of 1957 and attendants.

Mary Alice Quigney and Larry Cassel begin the long trek around the ballroom. From the promenade the queen and court were chosen.

CLASS HISTORY

Way, way back in the year 1954 — a new group of students began its life as part of senior high; we were freshmen! . . . Since it was the year that our new school opened, we enjoyed the confusion of getting lost in the halls and being late for classes those first days . . . As freshmen we split into the various courses and explored new subjects in preparation for that day of graduation, which seemed to be in the very distant future . . . This also was the beginning of interest for us in school and extra-curricular activities . . . As cub reporters on the Trumpet staff, singing in Junior Chorus, and playing in the Senior Band our class let itself be known . . . Daryl Rabert and Bob Murphy were part of the J. V. Basketball team as well as donning baseball uniforms in Spring . . . Class leaders this first year were president Jim Whittaker, vice-president Daryl Rabert, secretary Jean Ernst, and treasurer Sue Beisel. . . . To round out the year, Sandra Harries appeared with the majorettes as their mascot; Nancy Roth and James Whittaker received the coveted American Legion Awards; Joanne Frank was secretary of Student Council; and Nancy Roth became junior high Grand Champion at the Lehigh Valley Science Fair

Come September we entered PHS as worldly sophomores, feeling on top of the world . . . Honor Society accepted ten of our class members into its ranks, and Key Club inducted eight boys . . . . . Our athletic fellows invaded the football team, virtually took over J. V. Basketball, (Bob Murphy and Daryl Rabert co-captains) were part of the Track team, and caught those flies in outfield . . . The girls not to be outdone supplemented the Trojanettes . . . Class leaders that year included Jim Whittaker, Nan Cox, Sue Christman, and Amy Gainfort

We were juniors before we knew it and it was wonderful! . . . Our class officers, Jim Whittaker, Daryl Rabert, Jean Ernst, and Sue Beisel were kept busy with our junior year activities . . . "Deep Sea Dip" was a lovely dance with an aquatic theme . . . Additional Honor Society and Key Club members were taken from among us to swell our class membership in these organizations . . . The Prom date of May 24 was one to be planned for and so we paid an assessment (our only class dues) . . . This was the year that Debaters discussed the farm parity problem; the evaluation committee from the Middle States Assn. accredited Parkland; and guidance classes were inaugurated for us juniors . . . Many classmates participated in our Junior Play, "Tattletale." We don't believe in boasting but we were creative Thespians . . . Student Council saw a classmate, Bob Murphy, as its Vice-president - Treasurer; Jim Whittaker attended Eastern United States Chorus; Nancy Roth took first prize in Conservation at the L. V. Science Fair . . . Perhaps the most exciting joy in the fresh new Spring was the arrival of our class rings. We were the first class to have the standard class ring and felt quite distinguished because of it . . . After the excitement of our Junior Prom faded, some of the girls ushered at the Baccalaureate and Commencement services . . .

The halls seemed a bit lonely those first September days for the ex-seniors we had depended upon were gone . . . The dramatists began early to rehearse our Senior Play, "Father of the Bride," this production echoed last year's compliments . . . School leaders were proclaimed immediately in the personages of Allen Handwerk — Honor Society president, Nelson Roth — Student Council president, Mary Ellen Bloch — Trumpet Editor-in-Chief, Joanne Frank — Par-Key Editor-in-Chief, Jim Whittaker — class president, Jim Wagner — veep, Sue Beisel—treasurer, and Jean Ernst—secretary . . . Name cards arrived and with them a flurry of exchanges . . . December 21 our semi-formal "Snow Ball" started the Christmas season, and it really was a "ball"! . . . As soon as the New Year blew in we journeyed to New York City to tour the United Nations building and enjoy a Radio City performance. The bus trip had all the appearances of a Spring outing . . . Outside organizations recognized the caliber of our senior students when Jim Whittaker was elected Key Club Governor for Penna., Mary Ellen Bloch received the senior citizenship award from the local D.A.R. chapter, and Joanne Frank became Parkland's Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow . . . Arlene Tubio, Gail Mikovitch, and Mary Ellen Liebensperger won gold keys in the Phila. Art Museum Scholastic exhibit . . . Basketball days this culminating year for us were tops! Runner-up for the league title is a fine finish; Bob Murphy's record breaking and the boys' placement on the League All-Star team attest to their performance . . . Spring came and so did the nearness of graduation. Those days were filled with papers due in many classes and buckling down for a last fling at our books while fighting off Spring fever. Announcements arrived and were addressed to all near relatives . . . Junior Prom was our farewell to the underclassmen and those high school days . . . Baccalaureate June 1 and Commencement June 5 marked an ending as well as a beginning for us seniors.

Junior High Jinx

Each year a brand new seventh grade class floods the halls of P.H.S. The three junior high years are ones of growing self-confidence and greater participation in school life. Pictured here are some of the many facets of those junior high times.

Parkland: A good place to live . . . a good place to work . . .

Located on the broad plain in the central portion of Lehigh County, the area comprising Parkland School District provides its residents with an unusual opportunity to enjoy a full and active life. Its close proximity to metropolitan Allentown make it possible to enjoy the cultural and material benefits of urban living, yet the district itself offers the freedom and vigor that is usually associated with rural life.

Its fertile lands produce some of the finest crops in the state, and an unusually large number of parks within the district (from which comes the name Parkland) provide the fullest opportunity for esthetic nourishment. The various communities within the district maintain a progressive outlook and its people, many descendants of the Pennsylvania Germans, possess exemplary characteristics of industry, thrift and honesty. These are the advantages which make Parkland School District a good place in which to live and work.
